Schwalbach Geospatial Student Hackathon

Innovate with live maps and AI to shape the future of mobility and smart cities

This September, HERE Technologies, the world's leading location platform, will host our 7th Student Geospatial Hackathon at our office in Schwalbach. We're inviting curious and driven students with a passion for geospatial technology to take part in this exciting challenge.

The Challenge: Apply your geospatial skills to create impactful solutions for real-world problems. Your challenge will focus on one of the four areas: Map Making, Probe Data, Geocoding with AI, or connecting with FOSS(4G) and open data.
